Overview Ratings + reviews Details + support

Expense720 automates the process of incoming invoices for further handling in Business Central.

That's why most companies need Expense720

We help our customers with the digitization of their document handling process and with Expense720 you can avoid some of the most frequent problems such as:

- It is a very time-consuming task in your daily life with large costs for the company
- Lack of expense management can lead to slow expense approvals and reimbursement cycles
- Compliance with company policies and legislation is a challenge for many customers
- Security is a growing concern and has a very high priority for many companies
- Inefficient processes lead to frustrations and dissatisfied employees

How Expense720 works

Expense720 automates the process of incoming invoices and employee payments from receipt of invoice to approval and posting.

- The invoice is received by Business Central via e-mail or via the drag and drop function.
- Main information such as invoice number, invoice date, invoice amount, etc. are then recognized automatically.
- The attachment is sent for approval, where the approver can approve/reject and comment on the attachment.
- The approved attachment is posted and automatically transferred to the archive, where it can be retrieved and viewed directly on the screen.

Features in Expense720

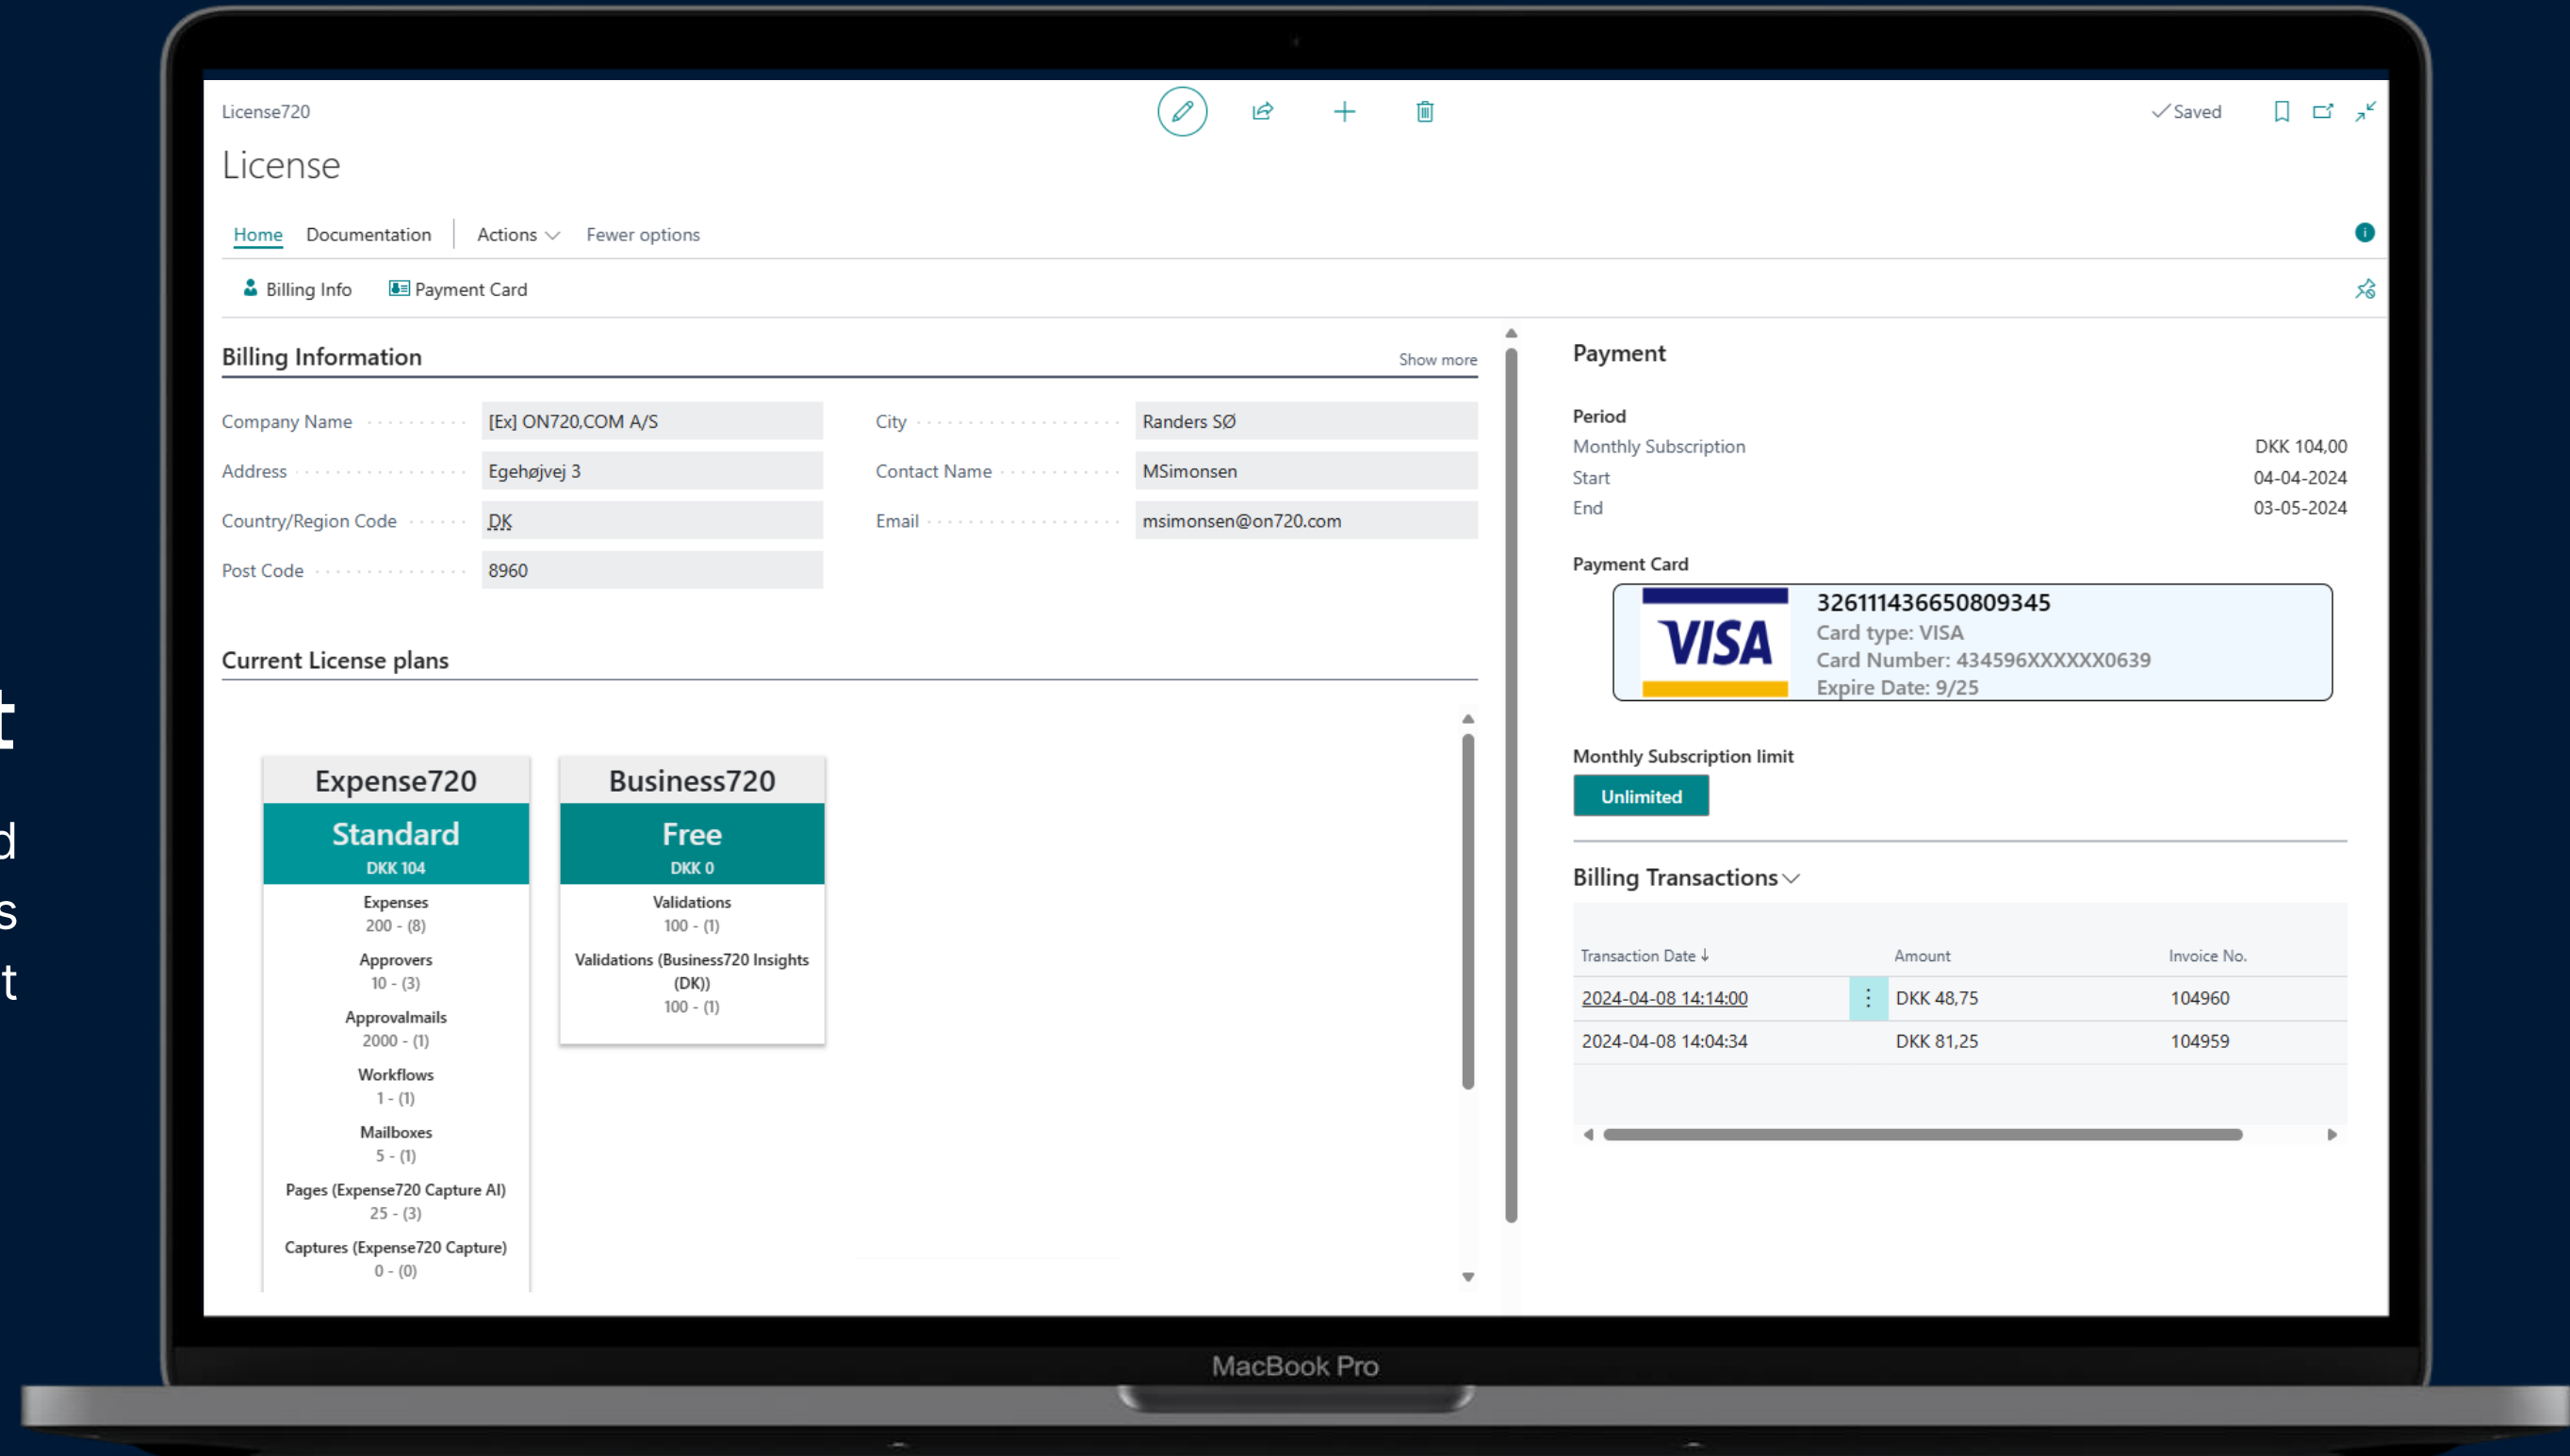

Expense720 contains a large number of very user-friendly and time-saving features that make everyday life easier.

- Drag and drop attachments directly into your Business Central user interface
- Viewing the attachment document itself has been added as an integrated part of the Business Central user interface
- Create workflows with attachment approvers and amount limits
- Expense720 can capture information from the attachment header to secure and facilitate the bookkeeping
